

What's Happening in 3rd Grade?

Week of January 11-15

Math

We will begin the week by reviewing how arrays can be used to help us solve division problems. Then we will use all of the division strategies we have learned to solve word problems. On Wednesday we will have a division quiz and then focus on the relationship between division and multiplication at the end of the week..

Important Dates

January 12= Make Up Pictures

January 12- Ice Cream

January 14- Ice Cream

January 18- No School

Word Study

We are continuing to learn about suffixes and how they change the meaning of base words when they are added.

Reading

This week we will begin our nonfiction unit. We will explore nonfiction texts and then learn how good readers ask and answer questions when reading. We will learn about both literal and inferential questions and how to answer them using nonfiction texts..

writing

We will begin our new writing unit. Since we are learning about nonfiction texts, we will write informational texts that focus on answering specific questions about a topic.
