

Midway Elementary Summer Learning Challenge

ARE YOU READY FOR A FUN CHALLENGE?

This summer you can challenge yourself to read and write to maintain your academic edge. Midway wants to encourage all students to take a little time during the summer to keep your brain active and engaged. Here's what you need to do. It's as simple as 1 ... 2 ... 3 ...

- 1) Read, Read, Read!
- 2) Keep a log of the books you read. This log will need to be completed accurately and returned at the beginning of the school year. Your log needs to include 10 -20 books. If you are a rising fourth or fifth grade student your log should include at least 3 or more chapter books on your reading level (hopefully, you'll enjoy even more).
- 3) For writing, send an e-mail of a fun day from your summer vacation to Mrs. Farr (joyfarr@anderson5.net) or a postcard. It could be a trip to Six Flags or the beach, a birthday party, a fishing adventure with your grandfather ... whatever you decide! Make your writing lively and interesting to read! Include your upcoming grade. These e-mails and pictures may be displayed at the beginning of next year.

You can earn extra credit points in ELA. Starting the year off with bonus points is always a good thing! Also, if you complete the log and return it to school we will celebrate with a treat at lunch next year.

Reading Log Due Date: Friday, August 27th
